AMERICAN SOVEREIGNTY AND MONROE DOCTRINE

The Monroe Doctrine, as originally announced, served as a shield, which the United States held over itself and over weaker states on the American continents as a protection against European interference and European encroachment. It was and is a national policy which protects North and South America and makes for peace on these continents.

There is real danger now, however, that the Monroe Doctrine will be carried so far and with so high a hand that the real value of the policy will be lost.

Senator Knox made the following amazing statement in his recent speech in the Senate:—"Its (The Monroe Doctrine) precise character, the extent, method and time of its application, the means of compelling its observance, all are matters of our high and uncontrolled will and sovereign prerogative. We, the United States, cannot answer to any one else in respect to it. We use it when, as, and to the extent we need it. There can be no limitation upon it, except our requirements, our will, and our force of arms. Whatever security we may need within its purview, it must give if we ask it."

That sounds like Trietschke. It is an announcement of unlimited will, backed by arms, to be exercised as the United States alone determines her own requirements to be. Such an immoderate statement of the Monroe Doctrine weakens and does not strengthen it. It is an extreme statement of the doctrine, calculated to cause trouble and friction on the American continents. The Doctrine so stated is not unlike the doctrine which Germany sought to apply to Europe.

Senator Knox would refuse to submit to conciliation any dispute growing out of the application of the Monroe Doctrine, whether such dispute were between the Unitd States and an American state or between the United States and a non-American state. On the American continent the arbitrary will of the United States backed by force is to prevail. The other nations agree, in the Covenant of the League of Nations, to submit to conciliation all non-justiciable disputes; that is, those which grow out of questions of policy. Is the United States to demand that she alone be relieved from such obligation and on the ground that, when her interests are involved, her absolute will shall prevail? How does this differ from the German position in Europe?

The fact is that the Monroe Doctrine now that it has been recognized in the Covenant of the League of Nations is adequately protected.

It is such pronouncements as that of Senator Knox and not the wise provision in the Covenant of the League of Nations which threaten the usefulness of the Monroe Doctrine.

JOSEPH WALKER.
Ex-Speaker of the House, Mass.

GUARD IN BRILLIANT ARRAY

Cretan Soldiers in Attendance on Venizelos at Peace Conference Were Gorgeously Uniformed.

Kings, presidents and premiers ceased to be a novelty at the peace conference, but the bodyguard of Premier Venizelos of Greece never failed to attract great crowds. At the hotel where the American delegation was housed and at the foreign office, Venizelos' approach was always heralded by the arrival of one of his Cretan soldiers arrayed more brilliantly than a comic-opera bandit.

The Cretans who escorted the Greek statesman were all more than six feet tall and apparently had been chosen from various organizations, as a different man appeared daily, and the same uniform was never seen twice. The swarthy Cretans all had small waxed mustaches twisted into upturned points and stood rigidly at attention for hours while awaiting M. Venizelos at the entrance to the hotel or the foreign office. The jibes of small boys and the jokes of various allied soldiers who gathered in wonderment never seemed to disturb the imperturbable Cretans.

Perhaps the most startling uniform worn by one of the guards consisted of white tights bound by tasseled black silk cords at the knees, a red velvet blouse and sash, a red fez surmounted by a black silk tassel so long that it fell below the waist, and black sandals with upturned toes topped by great black silk pompons. This costume was completed by an ivory-handled knife two feet long thrust carelessly into the sash.

The knives and swords worn by the Cretans were the chief feature of the uniforms and made collectors of antique weapons very envious. They were of all sizes and shapes and had sheaths of great splendor, jeweled and carved in a marvelous manner.

Some of the guards were bare-kneed and had costumes not unlike the Scotch in style, but much gaudier in color. Others wore marvelously decorated leggings reaching far above the knees. Capes of Oriental hues were frequently worn by the Cretans and added to the brilliancy of the Greek uniforms, which made the fancy dress uniforms of the French and English look somber.

There Are Some.

Two little boys were overheard recently discussing their respective schools. "My teacher is a war bride," boasted the older one.

The little one thought a minute. Then a look of relief spread over his face. "That's nothing," he retorted, "ours is a Civil war veteran."

NECESSITY OF A LEAGUE OF NATIONS

Should Eliminate War in Ninety-Nine Out of One Hundred Cases.

I wish to maintain the proposition that a League of Nations is not only desirable but an absolute necessity and for three reasons, any one of which would be sufficient to justify that phrase.

First, it is a necessity for winding up the war. We must not forget that this war has unsettled almost everything; has destroyed nations, and has created new nations on paper, such as Finland, Poland, Czecho-Slovakia, Jugo-Slavia, the Ulkraine ,and the Balkan States and some semi-independent bodies like Armenia, the Caucasus, and Palestine. These small states will be even more at the mercy of the great states than Belgium was, if we do not guarantee in some way their independence.

Then there are the great problems of the landlocked countries, which must have an outlet to the sea, and of certain international areas, like the Bosphorus, which must be administered by a league of nations. Then there are the German Colonies, which need, for obvious reasons, to be administered internationally.

Finally, as Mr. Taft predicted, this peace treaty is as long as the moral law. It will require interpretation, and it will require enforcement, for both of which we need a league of nations.

Secondly, we need it in order to avoid a recurrence of what has constituted a veritable curse even in times of peace, competitive armaments.

International cut-throat competition in armies and navies leaves the nations in the end in substantially the same relative positions as in the beginning. Yet we must each in self-defense, keep up in this race. To Europe this will mean economic ruin; to us, high taxes.

There are business men who are fighting shy of the idea of a league of nations with the thought that it is going to unsettle trade internationally—afraid, perhaps, that the tariff will be disturbed in some way. But any possible gain that could be had by maintaining the status quo would be cancelled many times over by the loss from the taxes—enormously high—which would be required to keep up our end in this international competition in armaments. Our own country, in spite of its wealth, would be reduced a long way toward poverty. This world would be scarcely fit to live in.

We have reached the parting of the ways as to our policy on armaments. Either we must compete with the rest of the world, or combine with the rest of the world.

The third and most important reason for a league is to prevent the recurrence of a world war.

A league should eliminate war in 99 out of 100 cases, because it affords another way than war to settle the inevitable disputes. A collective police force takes the place of national military forces. The national pride which so often leads to war will be transferred to keeping treaties. No longer will a nation need to go to war to "save its face" rather than recede from an untenable position; for the award of the third party will preserve its self-respect. Furthermore, whatever disarmament takes place will tend to diminish the danger of war and reduce its scale if it comes.

Many people are indifferent to or scornful of the idea of a league of nations chiefly because they lack the imagination to realize the horrible alternative.

In order ,then ,to wind up this war, to prevent oppressive taxes in times of peace, and to prevent future wars, we need a League of Nations.

But besides these three reasons, which are purely selfish, there is a reason which outweighs them all. Irrespective of our interests, irrespective of the fortunes of any man or party, we are in honor bound to do this thing. Our boys went abroad, to make the world "safe for democracy," and to do it forever. We owe it to them that their labors shall not have been in vain. We are talking about erecting monuments to them—memorial arches, and bridges, and buildings. Let us first erect a monument which will not only commemorate but perpetuate their work, the monument of a League of Nations.

IRVING FISHER,
Professor Yale University,
Dept. Political Economy.

Our August Special Sale

WE don't need to announce "Dollar Day," for two reasons: 1st Because we always give 100 cents worth of value to each customer all the time; 2d, Because we have no accumulations of old stocks to work off on "Dollar Day" sales. Instead, we offer real bargains of first class goods bought from overstocked manufacturers at reduced figures by our "cash on the nail" system of buying, goods bought low and therefore sold to our patrons for prices much below prevailing ones.

So our "Dollar Days" are every day in the year; our "reduced" sales are of merchandise of quality, new and stylish, not a lot of shop worn stuff, way-off in quality and fashion too. Goods for men, women and children at prices that will surely please you, 10 to 35 per cent. lower than those found in most stores.

This is no "catching" ad. promising reductions only on paper, but a real, bona fide LOW PRICE SALE at the big cuts named below and what's more any one can prove it by calling!

Do so, if you want comfort at reasonable prices.

Dogs In The World War

Hats off to the dogs of America! To a large extent they helped our Government win the war. Authority for this statement is Dr. Matthew Hunter, of the Rennsselaer Polytechanic Institute faculty and the American University in Washington, which handled all experiments for gases and explosives used during the war.

In a lecture before a gathering of the institute's alumni at the Engineers' Club Tuesday evening, Doctor Hunter declared that at one stage of the Governments experiments on gases, 600 dogs a week were used as subjects, "It was cruel," he said, "but it had to be and I think the result has justified the means. Nevertheless, every dog who went through those tests should be given a Distinguished Service Medal just as our soldiers were rewarded for bravery in the field. Those dogs did a lot more for their country than heaps of politicans and perpetual grumblers I could put my fingers on."

Smyrna-Dover Road Work

It is expected that the new concrete road between Smyrna and Bishop's Corner will be completed sometime next week, after which traffic will be allowed after about seven days. The portion of the highway from Smyrna to Bethel M. E. Church, just south of Garrison's millpond, was opened to the public for the first time last Saturday. Henceforth it will not be necessary to take the detour around by Leipsic in order to get to Dover. To go to Dover from Smyrna, follow the cement road across the Garrison's millpond to Bethel Church, turn to the right, cross railroad and turn to the left, follow tracks to Cheswold, where the road from Cheswold to Bishop's Corner leads into the State road, which is concrete all the way from Bishop's Corner to Dover. The new Bethel Church-Cheswold detour is only about one mile and a-half.

IS MONEY PAID FOR RENT WASTED?
ASK JAY C. DAVIS

DID you ever hear the story of the man who paid his good money for the picture of a rainbow? You didn't? Well, listen. After the beautiful colors faded away he discovered that he hadn't been looking at a canvas at all. He had been looking through an open window. All the same paying rent—you don't get the house. Quit it! See us. Own your home.

Have quite a few houses with modern improvements. Possession of two can be given in thirty days.

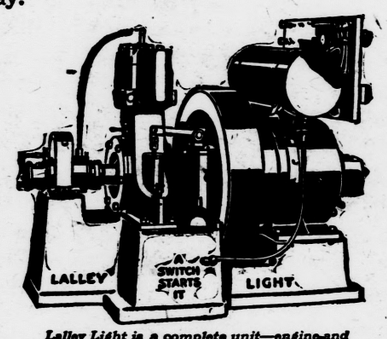
Lalley Light and Power
Saves Labor on the Farm

Lalley Electric Light is actually a farm economy.
It is an economy because it saves both labor and time.
It is an economy because, on the other hand, it gives better light for work which must be done before daylight or after dark.
Light and power are always ready, at the lowest possible operating cost.
It is a fact that Lalley savings do pay its way.



Lalley Light is a complete unit—engine and generator—with 16-cell storage battery. It supplies ample electricity for lights, water pump, washing machines, sweeper, cream-separator, fanning mill, iron, etc.
